Havana Room, in the Graduate Community Center
750 Escondido Road
Stanford

Directions to/from Parking Lot

Parking along Escondido Road is extremely limited, even in the evening, as most spaces are reserved for residents. Therefore we are suggesting that you make use of the large lot near the corner of Escondido Road and Campus Drive.

Directions to the Parking Lot

From I-280: Take Page Mill Road (toward the bay) to Junipero Serra Boulevard (about 1 1/4 mi.). Turn left on Junipero Serra to Stanford Avenue (about 1/3 mi.). Turn right on Stanford Avenue to Bowdoin Street (about 3/4 mi.). Turn left on Bowdoin ...

From US 101: Take Oregon Expressway to El Camino Real (about 2 mi.). Turn right on El Camino to Stanford Avenue (about 1/2 mi.). Turn left on Stanford Avenue to Bowdoin (about 3/4 mi.). Turn right on Bowdoin ...

Once you are on Bowdoin: go about 1/3 mi. to Campus Drive, where you will find a traffic circle. Do not turn onto Campus Drive, but instead go about half way around the traffic circle and continue on Bowdoin. You will immediately find a large parking lot on your right. Turn right into that lot and continue inside that parking lot as far as you can go toward Escondido Road, and park in a spot near the intersection of Campus Drive and Escondido. Parking in this lot is free on weekends.

Directions from the Parking Lot to the Graduate Community Center

Walk across Campus Drive at the intersection with Escondido Road and continue walking along Escondido on the sidewalk, on the right side of the street. After passing a few small parking lots you will come to a building that is smaller and closer to the street (and sidewalk) than the residence buildings. This is the Graduate Community Center.

This building has an entrance in the front that makes it look like it is a restaurant -- because that's what's right inside the front door. Go in that door, walk past the people ordering and eating food, and you will find the Havana Room on the right.